

Dear NHS Committee:

It is with highest regards that I write this letter of recommendation for Miss Chloe Mainhardt. Chloe was a student in my ninth grade Interdisciplinary Studies class at the Macomb Mathematics Science Technology Center, a magnet school servicing some of the best and brightest students from Macomb County. Since her freshman year, Chloe has continued to thrive academically.

In class, Chloe is a natural leader and a determined student. She leads by example and is a true team player, working well in both partner and group situations. The work Chloe produces is evidence of her hard work, attention to detail, and a love for learning.

Chloe is always looking to improve herself. She wants to be a member of the NHS because she wants more opportunities to improve her community. She is interested in marine biology and has a strong desire to rescue, rehabilitate, and research animals. Currently, in the summer, Chloe is helping to save the Monarchs, and is involved in protecting and raising the fragile species. Chloe was also able to donate her hair to charity, another example of her desire to help her community.

I have seen Chloe's hard work and determination over the past two years, and I have no doubt that she will continue to grow, improve, and gain leadership through her NHS experiences.

Sincerely,
